

Reception Children – Recommended Reading Books

“It is great if you can read but the question is: do you read? If you do the world is yours”

Michael Rosen

Research shows that children who read for pleasure will gain advantages that last their whole lives. Teaching children how to read and developing a love of reading go hand in hand. Regularly sharing books with your child is one of the best ways to promote pleasure in reading.

Looking for some inspiration? Here are some well-loved books you might like. Why not check out their reviews online and see how challenging they are before deciding. You may even be able to read a few pages first.

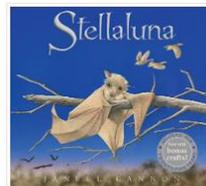

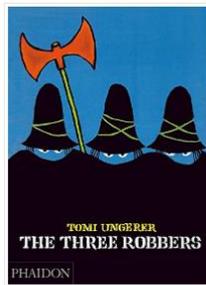

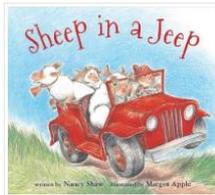

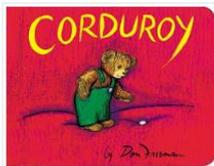

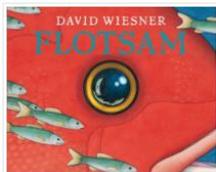

Don't forget to tell us what you thought of them!

The Red Book

“The more you read
the more things you know.
The more that you learn
the more places you'll go.”
-Dr. Seuss

The Lion and the mouse

